ORDER APPOINTING PRESIDING ELECTION JUDGES AND ALTERNATE PRESIDING ELECTION JUDGES

Under Texas Election Code section 32.002(a), the Travis County Commissioners Court must, in July, appoint the election judges for each regular county election precinct. Under section 32.002(b), the election judges so appointed serve for a two-year term, beginning on August 1 of that year.

The county chairs of the political parties whose candidates for governor received the two highest numbers of votes, respectively, in the County in the most recent gubernatorial general election have submitted to the court, in writing, a list of individuals in order of preference for each precinct who are eligible for appointment as an election judge, as required by section 32.002(c). And the court must appoint as presiding election judge the first person who meets the applicable eligibility requirements and whose name is on the list submitted by the party with the highest number of votes in the precinct in the most recent gubernatorial election, and as alternate presiding election judge, the first person who meets the applicable eligibility requirements and whose name is on the list submitted by the party with the second highest number of votes. But the court may reject the list if the individuals whose names are submitted are determined not to meet the applicable eligibility requirements for a presiding election judge.

Texas Election Code Chapter 32, subchapter C sets out the minimum eligibility requirements for a person to be appointed to serve as an election judge. This subchapter requires a judge of a regular county election precinct to be a qualified voter of the election precinct and to satisfy any additional eligibility requirements that the court prescribes. But a person is ineligible to serve if:

- the person holds an elective public office;
- the person is a candidate for a public office in an election to be held on the same day;
- the person is employed by or related within the second degree of consanguinity or affinity, as determined under Texas Government Code Chapter 573, to an opposed candidate for a public office or for the party office of county chair in the election;
- the person is the campaign treasurer of a candidate in that election;
- the person is a campaign manager of a candidate in that election; or
- the person has been finally convicted of an offense in connection with conduct directly attributable to an election;

NOW, THEREFORE:

The individuals listed in Exhibit A, which is attached to and incorporated into this order, have met the eligibility requirements prescribed by law for election judges. The Travis County Commissioners Court hereby appoints for a two-year term, from August 1, 2012 through July 31, 2014, those eligible individuals whose names are listed in Exhibit A. These individuals will serve as presiding election judges or as alternate presiding election judges, as designated in Exhibit A, for those regular county election precincts also listed there. The individuals appointed by this order will serve in each election ordered by the governor or by a county authority in which the regular county election precincts are required to be used, unless election precincts are consolidated for a special election. If the precincts are consolidated for a special election, the Travis County Commissioners Court will appoint election judges for such consolidated precincts from among the judges appointed for the precincts composing the consolidated precinct.

BE IT SO ORDERED on this, the ____ day of _____, 2012.
