Re: Consider and take appropriate action to approve the purchase of two licenses for Delorme XMAP 7 Pro USA Topography Street Data mapping software totaling $498.66.

The Delorme software will allow the Housing Finance Corporation the ability to map locations of potentially competitive properties related to multifamily bond applications. Additionally, the software will assist in determining proximity to locational amenities, such as public transportation and services. It can also map items in conjunction with census tracts and political boundaries. Many grant programs are sensitive to proximity to public transportation or other services and are oriented toward particular census tracts with specific poverty thresholds. The software will enable the Housing Finance Corporations to better prepare grant applications as well as vet multifamily bond applications. The software will also benefit other corporations as we will be able to map population growth or target areas within the county and Metropolitan Statistical Area that may be eligible for the assistance from the other corporations. For instance, the geographic area that a new charter school may draw students from would be pertinent information when considering an application for bonds through the Cultural and Educational Facilities Development Corporation.
