TRAVIS COUNTY ENVIRONMENTAL PLAT NOTES.

- Variance to 82.202(a)(2), Dual Access (Requires a new subdivision must have at least two access streets connecting to a different external street), 82.209(c)(3)(D), Buffer Zones for Waterways (Requires a 75 foot buffer from the 881 foot mean sea level contour line), 82.209(c)(D), Buffer Zones for Environmentally Valuable Features (Establishes a 50-foot buffer zone behind canyon rim rock and bluff crest lines), and 82.209(d)(1), Cut and Fill (Requires all cut and fill land balancing to be limited to a maximum of 8 feet) were granted by Travis County Commissioners' Court.
- No cut or fill on any lot may exceed 8 feet, excluding driveways, a building structure's footprint, or a parking area footprint, in accordance with the Travis County Code.
- As depicted on the plat, the setback area identified for each waterway is a protective easement that must remain undeveloped and activities must be limited within the easement. The protective easement must remain free of construction, development, and other alterations except when specifically approved in a Travis County development permit.
- Before beginning construction activities on a subdivision lot, the owner must obtain a Travis County development permit and, when applicable, implement a Storm Water Pollution Prevention Plan (SWP3). The SWP3 requires implementation of temporary and permanent Best Management Practices, including erosion and sediment controls, for protection of storm water runoff quality, in accordance with the Travis County Code.
- An activity that may adversely affect a tree of eight inches or more in trunk diameter (measured at four feet height above the ground) in a right-of-way accepted for maintenance by Travis County must comply with all standards and requirements in the Travis County Code.
- The 75-foot buffer from Lake Travis and the modified buffer from the bluff and rim rock lines (pursuant to variance requests) must be indicated on the final plat, in construction plans, and in deed restrictions.
- Construction activities on all individual lots are required to implement temporary and permanent Best Management Practices (BMPs), including erosion and sediment controls, for protection of storm water runoff water quality. Construction activities disturbing one acre or greater must also develop and implement a Storm Water Pollution Prevention Plan which includes BMP controls. For any lots with Travis County buffer zones, floodplains, or any areas with slopes greater than 10%, builders will be required to submit all necessary information to accomplish both interim and final BMP measures at the permitting stage. Final measures will be in place prior to the issuance of a certificate of occupancy.
- For lots 38A and 40A, Block A, the 25 foot buffer from the bluff and rimrock establishes the limits of disturbance and no encroachment of this area allowed for both the construction phase and post-construction uses unless otherwise approved by Travis County. These limits must be clearly noted on both the final plat and construction plans and must be noted in deed restrictions. Outside the limits of disturbance (i.e., outside the construction envelope), natural vegetation shall be maintained and protected; construction is prohibited; and wastewater disposal or use of wastewater for irrigation is prohibited. Prior to any construction on these lots, the applicant must prepare, submit, and obtain approval from Travis County for a site-specific and detailed erosion and sedimentation control plan for the construction phase. This plan shall provide detailed specific information on erosion and sedimentation control and best management practices that will be employed to prevent polluted stormwater from all construction-related activities from entering surface waterways or groundwater during construction until vegetation is permanently established on the site. This plan must include provisions for self assessment of the field conditions; corrections to better match BMPs to field conditions; assessment and correction of deficiencies; and independent monitoring of performance.
